

PROJECT MANAGEMENT (ONLINE) (MEPM)

Graduate Degree Program
College: Engineering

Abstract

The Applied Master of Engineering program is designed to assist engineers and technical professionals in the development of their careers and to provide the expertise needed in the rapidly changing business, government, and industrial environments.

Our high quality, challenging Project Management degree programs encompass technical expertise, behavioral competence, and strategic awareness. Courses are taught not only by esteemed faculty but also by industry experts. As the first Project Management program in an engineering school to be accredited by the Project Management Institute's Global Accreditation Center (PMI), the University of Maryland empowers students to put high-demand project management methods into everyday practice.

Financial Assistance

Students in this program pay a special tuition rate, which does not differ between residents and non-residents of Maryland. This rate is not fully covered by graduate assistantships, fellowships or the tuition assistance. Additional graduate student fees are charged. Tuition and fees are subject to change.

This program does not provide departmental assistantships or fellowships. Loans, work-study and need-based grants for citizens and permanent residents with demonstrated financial need may submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) by appropriate FAFSA deadlines.

FACILITIES AND SPECIAL RESOURCES

This program is currently offered 100% online. The Clark School of Engineering's Distance Education Technology and Services (DETS) office administers a live interactive distance education system and webcast course capture for students to take courses as they are happening, in some instances, or at a time convenient for their schedule each week. In addition to lecture dissemination, DETS provides state-of-the-art chat, bulletin board, video chat, group presentation, and discussion technologies that give our distance students the same, if not more access to faculty and their fellow students.
