MLAW304 Introduction to Law and Social Inquiry (3 Credits)

An exploration of the relationship between law and society from an interdisciplinary perspective. Major themes cover the impact of law on society, society on law and social change.

Restriction: Must be in the Law and Society (MLAW) minor.

MLAW305 Law and Legal Institutions in Social Context (3 Credits)

An exploration of case law, statutes, and regulations separately and together in their social context.

Prerequisite: MLAW304.

Restriction: Must be a student in the Law and Society Minor.

MLAW315 Citizenship and Naturalization in America (2 Credits)

Notions of who is an American - and who is not - are deeply rooted in the American ethos. Although the United States has long been praised for its inclusiveness vis-a-vis citizenship - including a policy of jus soli, or birthright citizenship - a closer look reveals a difficult history involving the categorical exclusion of many groups from American citizenship. We will examine this history, focusing particularly on Black and Native Americans and immigrants, and drawing upon legal cases, historical texts, and personal narratives detailing the lived experiences of those seeking American citizenship. We will trace this history to the present and explore the current process and requirements for becoming an American citizen. Students will have an opportunity to engage guests and discussions from the Maryland Carey School of Law and other experts.

Restriction: Must be in the Law and Society minor (MLAW); or must be in College Park Scholars Justice and Legal Thought (CPJT).

MLAW325 Naturalization Workshop Practicum (1 Credit)

The focus of this Practicum is a naturalization workshop whereby students will assist eligible Marylanders in applying for citizenship. Students will work with faculty and law students to design, plan, and implement a naturalization workshop, to take place on a Saturday in the spring semester. Students will work directly with law students and faculty.

Prerequisite: MLAW315 or by permission of the department.

MLAW358 Selected Topics in Law and Society (3 Credits)

An interdisciplinary exploration of topics in law and society. Major scholarly interpretations of specific substantive fields of law.

Restriction: Must be in the Law and Society Minor.

Repeatable to: 6 credits if content differs.

MLAW359 Undergraduate Teaching Assistant Experience (3 Credits)

Repeatable to: 7 credits.

MLAW404 Law & Society Capstone (3 Credits)

An exploration of the implications of technology on law and society from a variety of perspectives. Significant issues will be taken from contemporary scholarship and court cases.

Restriction: Student must be enrolled in the Law and Society minor.

MLAW411 Appellate Advocacy I (3 Credits)

By the end of this class, and with proper supervision, students should be able to competently brief and argue an appeal before any appellate court in the country. The skills taught in this class also transfer to other contexts that demand clear legal analysis, efficient and comprehensive legal research, excellent writing and effective oral advocacy. For students interested in pre-law skills, whether they plan to go to law school or some career that requires analytical reasoning, persuasive writing, and advocacy skills.

Recommended: MLAW304.

MLAW425 HUMAN TRAFFICKING IN CONTEXT (3 Credits)

Human trafficking, while not widely understood, ranks among the most severe and lucrative of criminal enterprises around the world. This course will focus on promoting an understanding of human trafficking in an international context. Students participating in this course will travel to a specific region of the world and focus on the unique challenges relating to human trafficking in that region. Students participating in this course will not only gain an appreciation of the types of human trafficking occurring in the region and the systemic and situational contributors but also the consequences of and reactions to it. Readings, lectures, speaking engagements, and services will be combined to obtain the objectives of this course.

Cross-listed with: CCJS425.

Credit Only Granted for: CCJS425 or MLAW425.

Additional Information: The course location may change for this course each summer.
